

Apollo adds new office as expansion continues

Due to continued expansion Apollo Lifts is adding an additional office to its UK network. To be situated adjacent to its current headquarters building, the new purpose-built unit will offer much needed extra space for a company that has almost doubled its headcount over the past 18 months. The hi-spec space will feature air conditioning, Cat 6 flood wiring, microwave links and VoIP telephony and is due to completed in the early autumn.

